REPUBLICANS IN COUNCIL.

Elect Sixteen Delegates to the Territorial Convention.

THE PRESIDENT IS ENDORSED.

Gov. Murphy Receives Unanimous Support for Minneapolis.

Our Foreign Policy Appreciated—Congressman Bowers Commended.

At 11 o'clock yesterday, pursuant to a call from the Central committee, the Republican County convention assembled in the city hall for the purpose of electing sixteen delegates to the Territorial convention which convenes in this city April 7th.

The call for the County convention was read by Secretary L. J. Wood. The Hon. J. Y. T. Smith was chosen temporary chairman and L. J. Wood, temporary secretary.

The convention then took a recess of fifteen minutes to allow the committee time to report.

The convention was called to order again on expiration of recess, and the following report read and adopted from the committee on credentials:

The Republicans of Maricopa County, in convention assembled, do reaffirm our fealty and allegiance to the Republican party, and do

Resolved, That we endorse the administration of President Harrison. We point with pride to the work of the fifty-first congress, and ask comparison of that working body of legislators to the do-nothing fifty-second congress, with its overwhelming Democratic majority. Such exhibits of 50-pound bars of block tin as that made in the National house of representatives a few days ago by Congressman Bowers of our neighboring district in Southern California, has utterly effectually settled the tin plate liar of 1890, and the public are beginning to realize the benefits of the McKinley bill.

Resolved, That we especially commend the vigorous and valiant Americanism displayed in the dealing with foreign affairs by the present administration. It is in contrast with the weak and vacillating policy of Secretary Bayard that we must commend itself to every true American.

Resolved, That we endorse Hon. N. O. Murphy for delegate to the National Republican convention at Minneapolis, June 7, and the delegation of Maricopa county to the Territorial convention is hereby instructed to cast its vote for him and use all honorable means to secure his election.

After a brief recess the convention again convened and the committee reported the following delegates to the territorial convention.

ALL OUT!

All the Prisoners in the Tombstone Jail Escape.

JURY MAY ADJOURN

For the Subjects of Their Labors Have Flown.

The Result of a Well Planned and Successfully Executed Plot.

They Cut Through Their Cells, Then Tunnel Through the Brick Walls to Light and Liberty—Ten in All Succeeded in the Attempt—The Sheriff Out With a Large Posse—$500 Reward Offered for the Runaways.

Special to THE REPUBLICAN.

TOMBSTONE, ARIZ., March 31.—This city was electrified this morning when it was learned that ten prisoners confined in the county jail had escaped.

The delivery was complete. Not a single prisoner remained or took the trouble to bid his host a revoir, but all left and now are lost and seen unable to find their way back. Eight of them were Mexicans confined for minor offenses while the other two were Americans whose cases were being investigated by the grand jury, being charged with cattle stealing.

From the nature of the escape it must have been a well conducted plot to escape managed from the outside of the jail. The prisoners had cut through two layers of 2x4 timbers, with which their cells were lined, and afterwards tunneled through the thick brick walls of the jail to liberty. Sheriff Kelton has a large posse in pursuit and has offered a reward of $500 for their arrest and return.

A THOUSAND NEGROES MEET.

To Take Action on the Recent Memphis Lynching.

CHICAGO, March 31.—A thousand negroes assembled at Bethel A. M. E. church last night to "consider" recent southern outrages upon their race.

The first session of the evening came when, after a short address, Pastor George W. Gaines asked the audience to join him in singing "America." As one man the audience arose and refused to sing that song until this country is free from the taint of race prejudice.

Several addresses followed the singing, among the speakers being State Representative Morris, who urged the colored people to organize into leagues and associations to resist by united efforts outrages by the whites.

E. L. Barnett, speaking of the recent Memphis lynching said: "Memphis calls itself the queen city of the south and boasts of its intelligence and honor. Its inhabitants have all the wealth, all the influence, all that power or cowardice could suggest and yet this fortified, the men permits men of honor and business integrity, who have grown into manhood about its streets, men who never felt the force of law even to a feather weight, but were known far and wide as industrious, upright and creditable citizens, to be cast into jail for defending their property and lives, and this queen city stands to their defense and utters no word of protest. The jailer in charge at the time of the lynching was severely scored, as was the white press, which, admitting that it was an unfortunate affair, warned the negroes that an attempt to retaliate might become serious." The speaker closed by appealing to the negroes to sustain from resistance, but to use cool, calm courage and carefully deliberate over the manner by which repetitions of the Memphis affair may be averted.

SETTLED FORTEN MILLIONS.

It is Said that Mr. Seales Paid Hopkins Nearly Half the Estate.

NEW YORK, March 31.—A World's Pittsfield, Mass., special says: Did Timothy Hopkins receive $3,000,000 or $10,000,000 to settle the contest of the will of his foster-mother, the late Mrs. E. F. Seales? Down at Great Barrington, where Kellogg Terrace, the $2,000,000 home that the widow of Mark Hopkins built but scarcely occupied, stands deserted, it is whispered with bated breath that the demand for $10,000,000 has been alluded to. A lady who has often been the guest of Mrs. Hopkins before she became Mrs. Seales said that she knew that Seales had paid Hopkins $10,000,000. Hopkins wanted $12,000,000, at first, that being supposed to be about half the value of the estate. He then dropped to $10,000,000, and Mr. Seales was willing to settle for that amount, for, said Hopkins had some damaging evidence to produce had the case gone on.

Two Bad Men.

MARSHALL, Mo., March 31.—Jesse Enlow and J. D. Officer, two prisoners, were brought this morning from New Frankfort neighborhood by Constable Nable. Enlow is charged with an assault with intent to rape a young girl named Lora Baker and Mrs. Metzger, of near Frankfort, on March 7. Officer is charged with perjury, it being alleged in the information that he swore falsely regarding the age of a girl named Woback to secure a marriage license, wherein the latter and Enlow, the prisoner above mentioned, were the contracting parties. Both the men are now in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury.

A Wife's Act.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 31.—Mrs. John Kief, whose body was found half buried in the sand on the lake shore at Fifty-eighth street, last evening, committed suicide. Four months ago she married Kief. Recently her husband charged her with infidelity. She protested her innocence without success. Tuesday she left him, and was not seen again until found on the lake shore.

by hanging herself in her house. She was suffering from ill health, and was demented at the time she took her life.

FOUND HANGING.

Religious Troubles Lead a Policeman's Wife to Commit Suicide.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 31.—When Officer Hare, of the Twenty-third Precinct district, returned to his home yesterday morning after his night's duties, he found his wife, Ellen, whom he had left but a few hours before in perfect health, hanging cold and lifeless from the banister of the stairs. During the night the woman had arisen from bed where her three children, Annie, Flossie and Johnnie, lay sleeping, had torn up a bed sheet, and, tying a noose around her neck, had deliberately allowed herself to fall below the stairs, meeting a painful death by strangulation. "Good-by Annie, good-by my Flossie, good-by Johnnie, my dear children—God keep them, how can I leave them?" These words scribbled roughly on a slip of paper constituted the only message that the woman left behind. Officer Hare, the husband, says that he can assign but one reason for the suicide. While he was brought up a Protestant his wife was of the Roman Catholic faith. The difference in their belief did not affect their marital happiness for many years, but differences soon arose when the children were old enough to receive religious training. Quarrels frequently occurred. Only a few days ago, during one of these Mrs. Hare threw a pitcher of hot milk on her husband. When the husband left home at 11 o'clock last night to report for duty at the state house, his wife was in bed. When he returned from duty at 7 o'clock yesterday morning Officer Hare entered from the rear of the house. Surprised at not seeing his wife, he called her name but received no response. Hastening upstairs, he was horrified to see his lifeless form hanging from a banister rail, the instrument of death being a bed sheet.

The woman had even gone so far as to tie her feet and hands after adjusting the noose before suspending herself. Officer Hare quickly cut the sheet and carried the body to an upper room. Laying it on the bed, he summoned Policeman Rhinehart, who was passing. The two men applied restoratives, but death had occurred long before the discovery. The suicide was evidently deliberately planned. Coroner's Messenger Kurtz said yesterday that the woman had taken extraordinary precautions to insure success in her attempt at her life. The sheet had been torn into shreds. How she managed to tie her hands and feet is a mystery. When Patrick Sweeney, the father of the woman, was notified at his residence, Twenty-first and Bolton streets, of his daughter's suicide, he broke out into violent weeping. He had been murdered and had not committed suicide. His race became so ungovernable and his comment so boisterous that it was found necessary to place him under arrest.

The suicide was 30 years old. The youngest of the children is 7 months old.

FIGHTING HER FATHER.

A Rich Iowa Girl Objects to a Design to Put Her into an Insane Asylum.

OTTUMWA, Ia., March 31.—Oskaloosa, Iowa, has torn up over a sensational trial now in progress, where the wealth of the parties interested and their former high standing draw great crowds to the court-room daily. Miss Nannie Roberts, a most charming young woman, has brought suit for $10,000 against T. A. White, her uncle, and J. L. Roberts, her father, for attempting to put her into an insane asylum. The young lady has a large amount of property and it is thought the defendants took this method to get possession of it. Public sentiment is with Miss Roberts, who has retained as her attorneys Congressman John Lacy and Judge Blanton, and Senator McCoy, assisted by able counsel represents the defense. The trial will probably last several days.

Dragged to Death by a Mule.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., March 31.—John Beck, a prominent fireman of this city, was killed in a peculiar way today. He attempted to get upon the back of a vicious mule, but fell, and his legs became entangled in the harness. The mule started to run, dragging Beck under its feet. The animal dashed through a dozen streets. One kick knocked out the unfortunate man's brains, and as the mule galloped on it kicked the body from one side to the other. The mule was pretty well exhausted when four miners succeeded in capturing it. Beck's body was stripped of clothing, the legs were fractured and the features unrecognizable.

COUNTERFEITERS SENTENCED.

SALT LAKE, Utah, March 31.—The last of the cases against the counterfeiters who operated here and in Denver were disposed of today. The attorney for H. D. Sprague, who was convicted on Monday, made an effort to secure a new trial for his client this morning. Beck's body was stripped of clothing, the legs were fractured and the features unrecognizable.

A Singular Accident.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 31.—A man named George Weir lost his life by a strange accident today. The Artesian Water company is sinking a well connecting with its tunnel 80 feet below the surface. A plank extended part of the way across the surface aperture. Weir walked out on it to peep down. He walked too far and his weight overbalanced the plank, causing injuries from which he died tonight.

A Peculiar Method.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 31.—A peculiar case of suicide is reported from Port Deposit, Md. John Everett, a retired farmer, was found this morning drowned in a pump trough, with his neck fastened on by a two pronged hay fork, the tines of which had been forced into the wood of the trough. Everett suffered from a cataract, and was tortured with approaching blindness. He leaves an estate valued at $80,000.

HELPLESS YOUNG MOTHER

Charley Knox Badly Wanted For Seduction.

HE SKIPS OUT FOR OLD MEXICO.

A Requisition for His Person Came too Late.

He is Alleged to Have Ruined a Young Girl in Santa Barbara.—She Is Now a Mother.

"The time I've lost in wooing. In watching and pursuing. The light that lies in woman's eyes, have been my soul's undoing."

The latest evidence of human frailty in Phoenix comes to light by the appearance of a requisition signed by the governor of the great state of California, demanding the person of Charley Knox. But Charley is rather a fly young man himself and just twenty-four hours before the big paper with a red seal reached the office of the governor of Arizona, he had crossed the invisible line which divides the two republics of the United States and Mexico.

Charley Knox has been for some time in the employ of the Blinn Lumber Co. A couple of months ago he was taken back to Santa Barbara, California, by a United States officer charged with sending a lottery advertisement through the mail. The matter was straightened out and he returned. For a week or more he resumed his old position, then, as it has since been learned, suddenly resigned and purchased an interest in a bee ranch out the valley for the purpose of "lying low." This did not last long.

Tuesday morning a telegram arrived informing Charley that another requisition was enroute for Phoenix and advised him to pull out. Some of the "bobs" made up a little sack and one of them drove the fugitive to Tempe where he boarded the train for Mexico without delay. The charges this time appear to be of a much more serious nature than tampering with the mails. From the nature of them he has tampered with a young girl's affections. In plain English he is wanted for seduction and evidently wanted very badly. Last week the young girl, who is a resident of Santa Barbara, California, gave birth to a boy, which bears a striking resemblance to Charley. The young mother belongs to a highly respectable family, as well as Charley himself, his father being a leading physician of the Channel city. As the young man is beyond the reach of the law in this instance it is probable the too confiding girl will have nothing but sad experience for her implicit trust.

Knox seems to have been somewhat of a Don Juan. In the summer of 1889 he passed the time in the congenial climate of Oregon, waiting for a similar scrape to blow over but pater familias was obliged to plank down $3,000 before a sufficient current could be had to blow. After that little adventure he returned to Santa Barbara, and at once plunged into the last intrigue which has forced him into exile.

It is understood Knox's father is now trying to effect a compromise on the last case, but until he does all requisitions or mail can be addressed to Chas. Knox, Nogales, Sonora, where he is stopping under an assumed name.

OUR CROP PROSPECTS.

A REPUBLICAN REPORTER TAKES A DRIVE ABOUT THE VALLEY.

Grain and Fruit Crops are in Splendid Condition—A Prosperous Outlook at Present.

A representative of THE REPUBLICAN made an excursion through the country around the city this week, among the grain-growing and fruit-producing districts, in order to gain general information as to the outlook the coming season for crops, both of fruit and wheat.

It is yet too early, of course, to give anything definite as to what will or will not be grown; but the condition as it exists now can be given with certainty. A hot wind later in the spring, in conjunction with drought, might ruin the wheat, but such is not apt to be the case. A frost might destroy a considerable quantity of the fruit, but a frost after this time of the year is improbable.

The outlook for grain in this county has seldom been more promising than it is now. There has been only one really heavy rain, but there have been numerous light ones, scattered through the season in just the right proportion.

The acreage is large, the stand on the ground excellent, there being but few bare patches of ground to be seen. Unless some accident yet befalls the grain there will be a good crop in this county, and the prices will certainly be good.

Fruit Outlook.

In the orchards visited about the valley there is a fine prospect for fruit. The orchardists say that the trees never before have been so laden with bloom and with young fruit well set the twigs, as they are this year. Of course, all the orchardists are young and they are more able to produce a large crop this year than they ever were before.

Aside from the state of good health this year. The winter was mild, with but few hard freezes, and the orchards have had little to retard their growth and development, and with the return of spring they are prepared to put out a large bloom, and well able to nurture and sustain the fruit.

Cultivation.

It is to be observed on all sides that unusual care is taken this spring with the cultivation of the young orchards. They are plowed and tilled with much industry, and the grass is kept out of the land.

They show the effect. And the good results of this system of care will be seen more fully by and by when the fruit is matured.

The orchardists realize the fact that if they keep the good hold they have on the markets, they must also keep their fruit up to the highest standard. This they are doing first by careful cultivation, and afterwards they will do it by a system of grading the fruit, both before and after it was cured. In those sorts which are for canning purposes, the same care will be shown, and the same endeavor put forth to maintain a high standard.

The Vineyards.

It is learned upon inquiry that the acreage of vineyards set out this year is very far short of that of last year. The unsatisfactory condition of prices last season is given as the reason for it. The people who had vacant land were uncertain as to the wisdom of putting it in vineyard, and so they preferred to wait another year to see what developments might be brought about.

Those who did plant vines showed a marked preference for some of the seedless varieties, usually the Sultanor or the Thompson. A strong belief prevails that they will command a better price, and therefore will be the more profitable.

There is one thing to be observed in driving about among the vineyards, and that is, the unusual amount of irrigation that is being done this spring. There has been a radical change in the belief of many on the subject. Of late years there has been a growing tendency to irrigate less and less, the people believing that so much water was not only unnecessary, but that it injured the quality of the fruits.

But, from a somewhat extended observation among some of the largest orchards, it is apparent that the belief is growing that orchards want more water than they have been given the last year or two.

Those who explain why this is so, say that when the tree suffers for water they do not bear at all or else the fruits mature only imperfectly. When too much water is given the fruits suffer only in taste and not in size; and there is a difference of opinion whether or not they suffer in taste. Some say that they are just as good, while others admit that they are nearly as good, and that the slight difference in quality is more than made up by the difference in quantity.

Surplus Water.

It can be observed in many of the old irrigated sections that there is a large surplus of water that goes to waste. Some land that lies low receives too much water, on account of subirrigation from higher ground and from the leakage from canals.

This is a serious problem in some places; or rather, it threatens to become so in the future, although as yet no great harm has resulted. In course of time an elaborate system of drainage will become necessary. There is no great engineering difficulty to be overcome, for the country has a graded slope. But, in the course of time, the drainage problem will be only a little inferior to the irrigation problem.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Register now. Two drunks received sentence in the recorder's court yesterday.

A telephone from Tempe last night reported Walter Gregory much better. John H. Carter has sold lot 12, block 12, Mesa City, to Cornelius Fuller for $400.

W. J. LeBaron yesterday purchased from Judge Campbell lot 2, block 10, in West Tempe, for $12.75.

The Devereaux opera house has been engaged for the closing exercises of the high school April 23 and 24.

Three hundred and sixty-five votes have registered so far. The limit for registration expires April 15.

The trustees of the Mesa Tonsils association have sold to W. J. LeBaron lots 2, 3, 4 and 5 in block 22, at Mesa City for $20.

J. S. Byler and H. B. St. Claire have filed mining claims of twenty acres of placers near Frog Tanks which they expect to yield lucrative returns.

The funeral of Dr. Rickerson was conducted by Chaplain Scott, U. S. A., yesterday at the Baptist church in the presence of a vast concourse of people. The services were held immediately under the auspices of the Knights Templar.

Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday with the secretary of the territory for the Drovers' Live Stock, Canal & Farm Co. The incorporators are Samuel Hughes, Jas. E. Wise, Wm. C. Davis, Don A. Sanford, L. J. Sanford of Tucson.

Julian Borjoequez and Domicia Garcia who were on trial before the United States Court Commissioner Early for violations of the Edmunds' act were bound over to the tender mercies of the grand jury and bailed at $100 each.

Some heavy consignments have come in lately. The Kellner store has just received a load of beans, one of salt, another of bacon and lard, while still another of general merchandise is being unloaded at their mammoth store. Buying goods in such quantities indicates a good trade with quick sales and small profits.

The bright local light on the evening sheet had an "interview" with Dr. Diaz last night who reported things humming in the "line city." It turns out though that Dr. Diaz has never been at the "line city," and was never approached by the Herald young party. Such faking is coarse even for Morford's journal.

The boys of Co. B, N. G. A., held their regular drill last evening. Capt. Crenshaw deserves great credit for the efficient work he has accomplished and it is universally conceded that Co. B is better up in military tactics than any other company in the territory, ranking well with those of the older states. With the limited means at their command the National Guards have by untiring efforts reached a degree of proficiency for which the people of Arizona may, and justly do, feel proud.
